Do you have to renew your teaching certificate by June 30, 2019?

Have you earned your 20 in-service points to meet the Instruction of Students with Disabilities requirement (ESE1108)?

If not, here are three options to earn those 20 points.

PDA Teaching Students with Disabilities

This module provides educators with information about the foundations of Exceptional Student Education in Florida, principles of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and their influence on educating students with disabilities, and appropriate instructional practices for students with disabilities.

PDA Effective Teaching Practices for Students with Disabilities: Focusing on the Content Areas

This module provides educators with information about appropriate and effective instructional practices for students with disabilities, especially in the core content areas. Application examples are included to support the course content.

PDA Positive Behavior Intervention Supports

This module will provide an overview of the 4-step problem-solving process that is used in the context of tiered systems of service delivery to ensure responsive instructional practices that meet the needs of all students. It will illustrate the importance of utilizing a data-based problem-solving process to make adjustments to the critical classroom PBIS practices that ensure responsive behavioral systems that are unique to the needs of staff and students within each classroom.

Palm Beach County School District Employees may participate in any of these offerings. Participants must register for the course on the PDA website AND through eLearning Management System. eLearning is how the inservice points are processed in our district for these statewide independent study online modules. Participants must upload their signed follow-up form and certificate of completion to eLearning and complete the PD Instructor Evaluation Survey to process the points.

IMPORTANT

Please make sure the title on your certificate matches the title of the course you are enrolled in eLearning. After the course is completed on the PDA website, participants must upload the signed follow-up verification form and certificate of completion to eLearning and complete the PD Instructor Evaluation Survey in eLearning.
